

Radiology and Radiation Oncology Congresses unite to form UKIO in 2019

The well-known and popular congresses, UKRC and UKRO are being fully amalgamated in 2019 and will become United Kingdom Imaging and Oncology (UKIO).

This will be an integrated congress bringing together a multiprofessional delegation involved in all aspects of Radiology and Clinical Oncology. This educational meeting and technical exhibition will be delivered with the theme of Personalise & Humanise. The scientific programme, that promises to be both innovative and varied will create a true multidisciplinary congress, covering the widest range of topics.

A very strong team of Vice Presidents and programme committee members guided by UKIO President, Dr Julian Kabala, are working to create a challenging education programme including a number of plenary sessions and debates.

UKIO 2019 will take place at the ACC Liverpool on the 10-12 June 2019 - put the dates in your diary now!

The deadline for the call for papers is Monday 17 December 2018.

The Congress is organised by ROC, (Radiology Oncology Congresses) a charitable partnership of the British Institute of Radiology, The Institute of Physics and Engineering in Medicine and The College of Radiographers. The new ROC Chair, Pamela Black, said "I am delighted to be taking over the chair from Gunter Dumbrowe who has done a superb job uniting the two congresses. There is now a great opportunity for developing this new congress to meet the spectrum of needs of those working in the imaging and oncology fields both in the UK, Europe and from around the world. This is just the start, and there are significant plans for developing the congress even further over the next few years."

More details will be available on the new website www.ukio.org.uk
